

THE GOLDEN HORN MINE

Development Work is Showing Up Some Magnificent Quartz.

Development work on the Golden Horn property is giving results surprising to the management, though comparatively only a few shots have been put in on the new shaft. H. Rideout, manager for the Co., and Mr. Williams, mining engineer, returned yesterday from the mine, having spent several days therein getting the men started on the new shaft, which is being sunk on No. 1 vein on a line with the 75 foot shaft which has been sunk on No. 2 vein.

This property is between the altered granite and the schists, on the line of contact and has every indication of permanency. There are four veins in about 40 feet. No. 1 vein on which the company is now sinking gave assay values of $8 to the ton on the surface, and at seven feet an average sample right across the vein yielded the magnificent return of $41 to the ton. Considerable visible gold was in evidence at this point, but in taking the average sample only pieces of quartz showing visible gold were eliminated. The vein at the surface was about two feet, but was gradually widened to 7 1/2 feet with splendid walls.

On No. 2 vein a shaft has been sunk 75 feet. A mill run of 30 tons of rock of which only about two-fifths was quartz from this shaft gave a result of $4.50 per ton. No. 3 vein is 250 feet from No. 2. A test pit 7 feet deep has been sunk and the vein has widened from 2 feet to over 5 feet. About 100 feet farther to the south is No. 4 vein lying on the trap formation and running along the line of contact. On the surface it is 2 feet wide and an average sample went $7.00.

The showings on the property and the assay results are much beyond the expectations of the original owners, who are no doubt sorry that they disposed of it to the Golden Horn Mining Co. To show the faith that Mr. Rideout has in the company we might say that notwithstanding that he has already a large block of shares in the company, he wrote the directors today applying for 5,000 shares further. The work is proceeding along conservative lines and we believe that with the present management they will develop the Golden Horn at the lowest possible expense.

BOY BANKERS.

Milwaukee Youngsters Organize a Penny Savings Bank. Learn the History.

A penny savings bank under the system which has been in successful operation in the east for more than twelve years has been introduced in the Boys' Busy Life Club, 603 Jackson street, Milwaukee. E. N. Northrop, superintendent of the club, thinks the Boys' Club system superior to any of the plans now used to encourage the saving of small amounts, inasmuch as the bank is conducted on a small scale much like a regular bank. The idea is to teach not only the value of a penny saved, but regular business methods.

The bank will be open every evening except Sunday from 7 until 8, and Saturday afternoons from 4 until 5. Any amount from 1 cent up will be received from boys or their parents who wish to save money. The depositors are not restricted to club membership. When money is deposited the depositor receives a little book with the amount of the deposit received, and every subsequent deposit is added to the book. Names and addresses are kept at the rooms and all deposits are entered on the bank ledger. One week's notice is required to draw money out, and a receipt must be given for even 1 cent. The plan is simple, business-like, and effective.

THE ORION GOLD MINE.

Work Resumed on This Property—The Company Re-organized.

Mr. Otto Taubert, of St. Paul, arrived in town yesterday. He informed THE MINER that arrangements have been completed for the re-opening of the Orion mine, in fact a couple of men were sent to the property yesterday to prepare the camp for the reception of a full crew.

It will be remembered there was some difficulty among the stock holders of the original Orion Co., on account of there being no by-law authorizing the sale of the stock at a discount. To correct this, the company has been re-organized and all the shareholders in the old company will receive share for share in the new company.

The Orion group comprising several complete mining locations on a bloc, is situated in the Carleton lake section, near Gold Rock, in what is now familiarly called the Manitowish country. Like the Independence upon the adjacent claims of HP287 and HP357, of which veins it is the direct production. The Orion has the distinction of being among, if not indeed the very first discovered of gold-bearing veins upon the Manitowish chain of lakes—that of La Conque alone excepted. These discoveries were brought about through the enterprise of Silas Griffin who outfitted or grub-staked two unfortunate prospectors who barely escaped cremation in this then howling wilderness during the fierce forest fires which swept over certain areas of the Manitowish that season, only to meet the grim tyrant, but a short time later by equally untimely but different fates. These claims have also the distinction of being the first in this section to be placed under active and intelligent development, the one under and through the indefatigable efforts of N. C. Westfield, and the other by the no less enterprising Otto Taubert, of St. Paul, who, after reiding of the marvelous resources of this northern region, proceeded to the Orion claim just two years ago on the 1st inst., and verified all that was reported and said about the existence of "gold in the Manitowish paying quantities," by breaking off samples with his own hand that left very little doubt on his mind as to the veracity of the statements made by the owners and others as to the merits of this section. Mr. Taubert upon this occasion was accompanied by a large party of friends from St. Paul and Rat Portage, including a photographer, as, to say the least, very few rivals in this or any other mining district, to its well established claim to being the premier prospect of the Manitowish.

RUN OUT OF ROSSLAND.

Two Hundred Miners Escort Three Strangers to the Edge of the City.

Rossland, B. C., June 15.—Harry Helmes, W. T. Jones and Alex. Blomquist were run out of town by the police today and were seen away at the Red Mountain depot by a crowd of 300 miners. The men came in from the Corner D'Alenes to work at the North Port Smelter, but their records were known there and the management refused to permit them within the smelter grounds. The trio came over to Rossland and were around the city a few days. They did not work and contented themselves with loafing about the streets and declaring that they would make this "a scab camp in six months." The police put the men in the cells over night and escorted them to the depot in the morning. The station is near the mines and a big crowd of miners gathered to give the trio a send off. It was openly stated that if the police encountered any difficulty in getting rid of the men the miners would find a way to persuade them to depart.

Dominion Day Regatta.

The Dominion Day regatta promises to be a success this year as it always has been in the past. The executive committee held a meeting last Saturday evening and the following four-oared crews were picked:

A. Young, W. Pender, W. Johnson, T. Hooper, stroke.
W. Martin, R. Rose, N. McDonald, A. McClelland, stroke.
S. Griffin, W. Mather, C. Pennock, E. R. Van Koughnet, stroke.
R. Beaudry, W. McGimsie, W. Rose, L. Charlesworth, stroke.
M. Campbell, S. Scovill, S. Burton, N. Schnarr, stroke.
A. Coleman, C. Clark, G. Toole, M. Seegmiller, stroke.

Besides these crews the Winnipeg rowing club are expected to send down two four-oared laptrunks, a four-oared shell, a double and likely a single shell. So with good weather a first class regatta is looked for.

THE COUNTRY NORTH OF US

Report of No. 10 Party—Large Areas of Timber and Agricultural Land.

We are in receipt of the parliamentary reports of surveys and explorations carried out by the government during last year. The report, from which we make extracts, was known as "No. 10 party," and embraced the territory extending from this place eastward along the line of the C.P.R., including Wabigoon and English rivers, and northward to Lac Seul and then down the English river to its confluence with the Winnipeg river, including occasional excursions to interior water stretches as Silver and Black Sturgeon lakes, etc., returning to the place of departure via the Winnipeg river, of which, we regret to observe, very little mention has been made.

The ten parties sent into Northern Ontario were, with one notable exception—that of No. 3—in charge of surveyors. No. 3 including Shubury and northward to Speight's Base Line was believed to be too valuable for timber and agriculture and consequently was run by a timber and land estimator, with, presumably, a geologist thrown in. Timber land valuations upon this party received $90 per month, and the scientists the munificent reward of $30 per month, and it may be observed that from our knowledge of the country generally, and Section 10 in particular, fairly good work was accomplished for the money.

Of the territory covered by this party it is estimated—very conservatively we think—that there are 600 square miles of agricultural lands: 1,500 square miles of pulpwood land, yielding 4,000,000 cords of spruce and 4,000,000 of poplar, with the addition of another 1,500 square miles, yielding 2,000,000 cords of spruce and 3,000,000 cords of poplar; or a total of 6,000,000 cords of spruce and 12,000,000 cords of poplar—or enough to keep our enterprising pulp mill people running full time for some time to come.

English river, one of the principal tributaries of the Winnipeg or "River of Rapids," is itself conspicuous for a series of pretty falls and chutes, which are referred to in the surveyors' report as follows: "There are quite a number of falls between Lac Seul and Winnipeg river. The first are two or three miles below Lac Seul outlet, where are two falls near together; the first of 10 feet, and the others of 10 feet, the width of the stream being much contracted. Next comes the falls near mouth of Cedar river, where there is a over, while the river is very swift for half a mile above, so that the total descent there must be as much as 15 feet. There is a portage of 8 chains on the north shore and also one across the peninsula opposite the falls on the south shore. The next falls are some 4 or 5 miles below Separation lake where within 3 miles there are three falls, the first, Sunset falls, of 10 feet, and the other two of about 12 feet each, making a total fall of about 35 feet, and the greatest power on the river. The last, or lowest fall is a below the outlet of Deer lake and the drop is about 8 feet. From the Wabigoon river up to Lac Seul the country along the English river is well timbered with spruce, poplar, jackpine, etc., on clay land, the water is clear, and whitefish and other kind of fish abound in it."

It may also prove of interest to sportsmen generally that extensive water stretches of wild rice occur referred to, including Black Sturgeon, and Wabigoon lakes; Lac Seul, Wabigoon and Winnipeg river; and further, that used with a little pickering oil said wild rice was once considered a luxury. We regret, however, to observe that although a considerable area of good soil is included within the area now referred to and more particularly in the immediate vicinity of H.B.Co. posts, Indian reserves, and church missions, that little or no attention is bestowed upon raising crops or even vegetables, and none whatever in the important matter of rotation, the Indians growing the same root and other things upon the same limited clearances from one generation to another. Wild fruit and plants we are pleased to observe, have not been overlooked upon this flying trip as the report says: "The wild plum tree was occasionally met with." Wild plums are gathered at Indian House on English river, and at White Dog reserve (Islington) or Winnipeg river, while smaller fruit as raspberry, strawberry, black, red and skunk currants, blueberry, Saskatoon and Highland cranberry, abound apparently in profusion; while of wild flowers the following appear the most conspicuous: White water lily, yellow lily, marsh marigold, tiger lily, golden rod, lady's slipper, roses, primroses, bluebells, arbutus, anemones, heliotrope and violets, all of which are indigenous in this section.

And finally towards the close of a rather interesting report, and while referring to the delightful climate of the Rat Portage district, and the extent of navigable waters of the Lake of the Woods and its immense tributaries, one or two practical suggestions are made: "Its numerous water routes through the forest make it a perfect paradise for the canoeist. The position of Rat Portage on the main line of the C.P.R., as a point where

SECTION MEN ON STRIKE

The Men on This Division Quit Work This Morning.

This morning all the local trackmen on the C.P.R. went out on strike asking for increased pay. Advice from Montreal state that 80 per cent. of the trackmen of the C.P.R. system from St. John to Vancouver, are now out on strike. In Montreal all have gone out save a few, and in Toronto every old employee is reported to have quit. The same advice come from all along the system, and the strikers are very confident that the company will have to yield in a few days. Following is a copy of the schedule of rates asked for by the employees of the western division, which includes Rat Portage:

- Yard foremen at terminal or divisional points shall be paid $70 per month.
- Extra gang foreman shall be paid $80 per month.
- Section foremen shall be paid $45 per month.
- Section men shall be paid $1.65 per day.
- Pump men at terminal and divisional points shall be paid $90 per month.
- Pump men looking after more than one pump shall be paid $85 per month.
- Pump men looking after one pump shall be paid $50 per month.
- No pump man shall be required to look after more than three pumps.
- Boarding house keepers may charge a maximum of $1 per week for board.

Mr. Taubert upon this occasion was accompanied by a large party of friends from St. Paul and Rat Portage, including a photographer and the veteran mining engineer, Captain Walpole Roland, Messrs. Carleton, Peterson, Higbee, and others. Numerous samples were taken at the various quartz outcroppings and exposures throughout a perfect network of veins, the very first sample taken by Mr. Taubert himself and assayed with others for him by the well-known technical chemist, of Toronto and Rat Portage, Thos. Heys, Jun., yielding per ton of 2,000 lbs., as follows: Gold: 113 ozs. 16 dwts., value, $2,351.11. It might reasonably be supposed that some gold was visible to the naked eye in such a sample, but the writer, who holds the assayer's certificate for the above, though possessing a keen eye for the royal metal, failed to see it until Mr. Heys produced it by fire assay in his laboratory here.

The Orion claims, as stated are en bloc, with a total area of over 400 acres according to the original surveys, and this immense estate, traversed as it is at various angles and honeycombed with veins all more or less auriferous, and ranging in width from 2 to 15 ft. 6 in., and in not a few places considerably over; while its total lateral extent runs up into miles.

Next is the falls, about a mile east of the end of Barnston lake where the stream is contracted to a width of 4 chains, the fall being 10 feet, forming a beautiful cascade, its snow-white mass of foam being visible far out in the lake. The next falls are at Oak lake where there is a descent of 25 feet in a distance of half a mile, one fall with a drop of 8 feet, where it pours over the rim at Oak lake. Upper fall is 6 feet, and the fall in the rapids about 5 feet. Then comes the narrows between Maynard and Tide lakes, where there is a fall of 10 feet or fish river and at White Dog reserve (Islington) on Winnipeg river, while smaller fruit as raspberry, strawberry, black, red and skunk currants, blueberry, Saskatoon and Highland cranberry, abound apparently in profusion; while of wild flowers the following appear, the most conspicuous: White water lily, yellow lily, marsh marigold, tiger lily, golden rod, lady's slipper, roses, primroses, bluebells, arbutus, anemones, heliotrope and violets, all of which are indigenous in this section.

And finally towards the close of a rather interesting report, and while referring to the delightful climate of the Rainy River district, and the extent of navigable waters of the Lake of the Woods and its immense tributaries, one or two practical suggestions are made: "Its numerous water routes through the forest make it a perfect paradise for the canoeist. The position of Rat Portage on the main line of the C.P.R., as a point whence voyages can be taken by canoe over so many different routes to points near and far, over the main waterways through the inland lakes is quite unique. And in this connection it is suggested that the government set aside a portion of this interesting territory as a national park and game preserve, sunning up as follows: This portion of Rainy River district contains immense quantities of timber for cordwood, railway ties, piles, mine timbering and other construction purposes, with a great quantity of spruce, poplar and birch for pulpwood, etc. Nor are the agricultural and mining industries and resources quite forgotten, as touching the former we find these brief remarks: "The agricultural areas, examined upon this trip, though circumscribed would yet furnish an important source of supplies, when the timber resources come to be exploited, although the present crop growing in the land (the timber) is probably as valuable a one as any that could be substituted for it; while the mining capabilities of this region (north of the C.P.R.) are not very great, apparently, but further and more detailed exploration, and the progress and application of geological science may yet reveal substantial wealth in these Archean rocks."

For Control In Nova Scotia.

New York Mail and Express: "Capitalists of this city are reaching out to control commercial and industrial interests of Nova Scotia. The Vanderbilt millions are behind a gigantic financial scheme which has been incorporated under the name of the Dominion Securities, with a capital of $1,500,000."

"This is the first step in the direction of permanent control of all the Nova Scotian transportation and industrial companies and establishment of a steamship service between this city and the seaport towns of Nova Scotia. Dr. William Seward Webb has been made president of the company and the directors are John Jacob Astor, S. B. Calhoun, Edgar Felton and Percy Clement."

"Representatives of the company are already on the scene of the proposed operations and the first stretch of tracks of the Cape Breton Railroad Extension company is being laid. Within four years 150 miles of track will connect Cape Breton with the best mining sections of the country. The company has secured the franchises, rights of way, concessions and subsidies which the Dominion of Canada and also the province of Nova Scotia will grant upon the fulfillment of its undertaking. The road now building runs from Yarmouth, at the southwestern end of Nova Scotia, northwesterly to Halifax and from Port Hawkesbury, on the Straits of Canso, to Louisburg and Sydney. The company will control the traffic through a section where the Dominion coal, iron and steel plants, in which W. C. Whitney has large holdings are located."

"It was learned on good authority today that this enterprise is a move made by the Vanderbilt railroad interests which will be felt all over the world. It will open a new line for American commerce and fill the great coal sheds of the entire New York section with the almost unlimited supply from the extensive coal mines of Nova Scotia."

AMERICANS WANT RECIPROCITY.

At a special meeting of the Boston chamber of commerce held last week, a resolution was offered, citing that "our increased export trade has been the unmistakable cause of the large part of our industrial prosperity, that, in the absence of special trade treaties with foreign nations we may soon experience a serious decline in export products, that Canada is our nearest and in some respects our best foreign market, and we should lose no time in permanently securing it, that the Boston chambers of commerce send to the president, the following petition and request the chambers of commerce and boards of trade of every American city to forward similar materials: To His Excellency the President—The Boston chamber of commerce earnestly petition that such steps as are necessary be taken to reconvene the United States and British joint commission for the purpose of preparing, on a basis of equivalent concessions, a reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and Canada, which may be brought before congress for its approval at its next session."

TORONTO LADY AFTER HUSBAND

Tolson Young Society Man she had $400,000 in her own Name.

St. Louis, Mo., June 14.—Arthur Lee Cabanne, a popular young society man, a former college athlete and soldier, who abandoned the luxurious environment of his father's home to enter the employ of an iron company in East St. Louis as third moulder's helper, in order to learn the manufacture of steel, has received sixty letters, some of which were proposals of marriage and others were of a congratulatory character.

One young woman of Toronto, Canada, informed him that she had $900,000 in her own name, and was ready to share her fortune and happiness with him. She said she had a villa at Los Angeles, Cal., and other realty, besides bonds and cash.

Society women of New York, Chicago, Baltimore and other places have also written to him. Many of the names are familiar to the social world by reason of their their publication in newspapers.

Mr. Cabanne says he is not a fortune hunter, and is not in the matrimonial market. He declares that he has not answered any of the letters. A college woman of New York wrote him an eight page letter, in which she expressed satisfaction at finding a man who was not ashamed to perform manual work, even though he was wealthy. Mr. Cabanne has now been with the iron company fourteen days, engaged in wheeling pig-iron and silica and shovelling coal into furnaces. He expects promotion to the position of second moulder's helper next week. He is a son of J. Charles Cabanne, president of the St. Louis Dairy Company.

She sits "perked up" in a glistering gown wearing a golden coronet. She is a wife and mother. But she has no happiness in either relation. She knows her husband's life is set in tune and time to the minor music of her own misery. If her child laughs or cries her nerves quiver with pain.

The sun shone on the beautiful bride, and her dress was all that mortal woman could, unreasonably desire, consequently she was clothed in joy right up to the moment when she declared she would take that man to be her wedded husband. Then suddenly a great sob convulsed her in a side puff near the middle of the church. It was followed by further sobs and gasps, and the familiar sniffs and snuffles of a weeping female. All eyes turned upon the poor, and discovered a young woman in black, watching the wedding with her face and hands flowing out symptoms of heartrending grief. The bride, those eyes traveled from the distracted young thing in the pew to the quivering bridegroom, and they were obviously every body could see he filled with accusations and insinuations of conduct unbefitting a gentleman. The bride turned pale and finished the ceremony in tears, which developed into hysterics, as they bore her along the aisle. Arrived at the carriage, she heaped reproaches and insults upon the horrified bridegroom, and then dived in Earl Cadogan, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, says that King-Edward takes a great interest in the welfare of the Emerald Isle, and intends to do his best for the progress of the country. He was asked to approve of certain plans for regimental marches recently submitted for the use of the newly-formed Irish Guards, and has chosen "St. Patrick's Day" for the quick march and "Come Back to Erin" for the slow march. Surely Ireland will not ask for home rule now.—Quebec telegraph.

The number of immigrants who have passed through the Dominion immigration agency in Montreal for this season, is over two thousand, according to Mr. Hoolahan, the immigration agent in that city. This is more than twice the number who had gone through at the same date last year. Mr. Hoolahan also states that the travelers this year are of a better class than formerly. They are not only able to pay their own expenses, but they also have a comfortable cash balance besides. There was not a single pauper among the number. The majority of the immigrants who have gone through so far this year were English.

INTEREST is being displayed in the use of smokeless powders and jacketed bullets in large caliber rifles. A .45 caliber bullet abating 500 grains gives a shock to large game, that the small bore can not always be depended on for. Marlin Model 1885 Repeaters have "Special Smokeless Steel" barrels. The word sober is employed ordinarily in a narrow sense. When we speak of a sober man we speak of one who practices self-control and does not become physically intoxicated. He is a man who is never drunken. This is a too important use of the word to be passed by. The habits of many today demand that attention be drawn to it. The most casual observer must note the vast waste of money in drink that marks present-day life. This is a leak of resource that cannot easily be repaired and for which we cannot readily find compensation. But chiefly must we note the following.

1. The number of those slain by this evil. In its ravages upon human life the drink traffic is a fearful monster. We do not require to revel in statistics to satisfy our minds as to the truth of this. A look at the record of death in any community will suffice for the most incredulous.

2. The number who are on the way to ruin. We cannot say that they are absolute wrecks, but human calculation must judge that they can go but little further before coming to an untimely end. They are driving the nails for the coffin that soon shall conceal them from mortal view.

3. The number who have a good start on the down grade. They have formed the habit. They indulge regularly and frequently though perhaps in quantity moderately. They treat and are treated. Their habits, we may say, have become genuinely convivial.

4. The number who are hovering on the danger line. These are the boys who are just landing into self-support and independence; these the youth who are away from home and live where there is nothing to cheer or who have come to our town, and are thrown in the way of those whose tendencies are "fast," to say the least. They are in the valley of decision. A little thoughtlessness, a degree of vanity, of self-conceit, an ambition to play the man may turn the balance to the wrong side or a serious look at the situation, a gliding in of one's self, an act of good-natured protest, a stiffening of the body and mind in sturdy resolution and resistance may save a soul from death, and cover a multitude of sins. Be among the sober. With stand the temptation so often and so subtly thrown in your way. Disdain the summons to so ignominious surrender of manhood and prospect. Go and break the glass, bottle, or decanter that is the instrument of your ruin. Spill the vile thing upon the ground where it will do little harm. Better that the vessel be broken than you better that you lose this than yourself.

There is also a misconception and misuse of this word sober. "Be sober," many understand it, and this is fail to note the classes addressed. The young and the old, and both sexes have special mention in the pastoral epistles of the New Testament. "That the AGED MEN be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience. The AGED WOMEN likewise that they be in behavior as becometh holiness. . . . that they may teach the YOUNG WOMEN to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children, to be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good. . . . YOUNG MEN likewise exhort to be sober-minded." Youth has its temptations to silliness, giddiness, frivolity, and intemperance. Young women may have more feathers in their hats than thoughts in the head that bears it. Young men may cherish the idea that some minor and questionable accomplishments constitute manhood; they may make their sport, and their indulgences, their light reading, their parade and empty imaginings the sum of existence. The aged too may err on the side of folly. It is not untrue that "there are no fools like old fools." If youth is not corrected of folly age but confirms it. A silly youth becomes in ripe years a monument of foolishness. And if we have not sobriety among the aged men and women, where may we look for help for the young? Let sobriety prevail among all classes.

Finally we should note that sober-mindedness should show itself in:

1. Preparation for this life. A young man spoke of his university career as a huge joke. It is the part of wisdom to make the most of school, college, apprenticeship, books, and all helps for the career that lies before us. Seriousness contemplates the future and seeks to meet it, and to make it.

2. Preparation for the next life. Here thoughtlessness has its most disastrous triumphs. It deprives men of an inheritance beyond. Oblivion to that enduring life settles upon them, and all their interest in it is neglected. Surely this is madness. Jesus said: "Watch, for ye know not the day nor the hour that the Son of Man cometh: and we may all fittingly pray to God, 'O spare me, that I may recover strength before I go hence, and be no more.'"

Husband Returns After Four Years To Find His Wife Married.

New York, June 11.—Returning to his home in West Hoboken, N.J., after an absence of four years, Victor Gerard, supposed by family and friends to have been long dead, found there his boyhood friend, Eugene Koehler, now the husband of Mrs. Gerard. The woman at the sight of her recreant husband, became hysterical. Koehler and Gerard, after a heated discussion as to their respective rights, began to fight, and Gerard drew a revolver. While standing five feet from Koehler he fired, the bullet lodging in Koehler's shoulder. Gerard ran from the house and disappeared.

Gerard came to this country from Bremerhaven seven years ago. In Jersey City he made the acquaintance of a young woman to whom he was

New Ontario's Resources in Millions and Billions.

THE CROWN LAND'S REPORT

A Tract of Arable Land Found North of the Height of Land Comprising an Area of About 24,500 Square Miles or 15,680,000 Acres — A Great Pulpwood Forest.

The report of the Crown Lands Commissioner of Ontario for 1900 was issued the other day. Perhaps the most interesting portion of it refers to the recent exploration of Northern Ontario at a cost of $24,507.

"The result," says the commissioner, "is that a tract of arable land has been found north of the height of land stretching from the Quebec boundary west across the districts of Nipissing, Algoma and Thunder Bay, comprising an area of about 24,500 square miles or 15,680,000 acres. The soil is a clay or clay loam, nearly all suitable for farming purposes, and the region is watered by the Muskeg and its tributaries, the Abitibi, Mattagami and Missinabie and the Albany, and its tributaries, the Kenogami and Ogoke. Along this latter stream alone about a tract of good land was found extending on both sides of the river for a distance of over one hundred miles, and in the district of Rainy River, between the surveyed townships around Dryden and Lac Seul, another extensive area of good land was found about 600 square miles or 384,000 acres in extent.

The climate of this region is reported to have no features which would prevent the ripening of grain or the growing of root crops. The soil for the most part south of the 50th parallel of latitude, which crosses the Province of Manitoba near Winnipeg, and its climate will not differ much from that of the latter province. Crops of grain, potatoes, and other vegetables and even small fruits were found growing as far north as James Bay.

Great Pulpwood Forest.

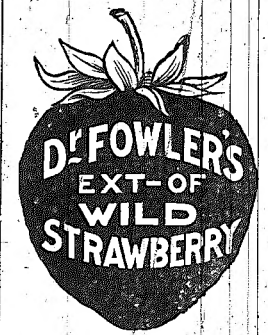

"A great pulpwood forest has been located north of the height of land extending across the districts of Nipissing, Algoma and Thunder Bay, with a depth in some places of 150 miles. The timber embraces all the common pulp woods, such as spruce, poplar, jackpine, and balsam of Gilead, as well as tamarac and cedar along the banks of the streams. It is generally of good quality, usually thick on the ground and ranges in size up to three feet in diameter. In the district of Nipissing south of the height of land an extensive pine forest was explored and estimated to contain about three billions of feet of M.

"On the whole, the information brought in by these explorations parties has been extremely gratifying and of the benefit to the province of conducting the exploration of so extensive a territory has been abundantly demonstrated. It is now established that in this section of the province, hitherto but little known, we have limitless quantities of pulpwoods and millions of acres of good agricultural land, which are capable of sustaining a large population of industrious people."

This report states that the timber cut of last winter was nearly twice

Much interest attaches to the operations of the Nickel-Copper Company of Hamilton, which proposes to produce refined nickel and copper by the Frasch process. In addition to these the Bruce Copper Mines Limited, an English company, is re-opening the old workings and putting up a concentrating plant at Bruce Mines which yielded so largely 40 years ago and at Rock Lake, the Rock Lake Mining Company is pushing development upon a copper vein of unusual promise, and is likewise erecting works to treat the ore. The total quantity of nickel and copper ores raised in the province during the year was 221,695 tons.

The important expenditures of the year, in addition to that for expatriating plant at Bruce Mines which yielded so largely 40 years ago and at Rock Lake, the Rock Lake Mining Company is pushing development upon a copper vein of unusual promise, and is likewise erecting works to treat the ore. The total quantity of nickel and copper ores raised in the province during the year was 221,695 tons.

Song of the Wandering Cavalier.

I.
My Love,
Why dost thou weep?
Why pensive cloud, whose wind-kissed breast
Heaves ever slowly, feeling rest,
Will bear thee ere the morrow's beams
Dissolve in sleep.
A sigh from me to tell thy dreams,
Why dost thou weep?

II.
My Fair,
Why dost thou weep?
Yon hooded mount, a white-fair old
Stands 'twixt us 'twain, serenely cold,
Yet there our lovers' glances may
Their meeting beam.

Local Interest

The company presenting East Lynne headed by Miss Courtenay Morgan is said to be the best that has ever taken the road, and if the press agency criterion they will be greeted by large audiences upon next Thursday evening for they have made our sister cities acknowledge their undoubted merit.

Mrs. S. Wilson and Master Roy left Saturday morning by No. 1 train for Vancouver, B. C., where they will stop for a few days, then start for Seattle, where they will remain for a few months. On their return they will stop at several places, including Banff Springs for a couple of weeks.

Those who were not fortunate enough to have a supply of candles on hand, were left completely in the dark Saturday night on account of the electric lights being shut off.

F. B. Godwin, formerly manager of the Ottawa bank is in town.

O. Taubert, who is largely interested in mining in this district arrived from St. Paul yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Allan, arrived from Winnipeg Saturday and left for their summer residence on the island.

The next attraction at the Hilliard Opera House, will be the well known and always favorite dramatization of Mrs. Henry Wood's novel of East Lynne. It is reported that Miss Courtenay Morgan, the leading lady of the company is one of the finest actresses on the road, and an emotional actress of rare ability, having the natural gift of moving her audience to laughter or tears. The story of the play is familiar to all and needs no comments. The parts are well taken by a capable company, the support being excellent. The company play at Rat Portage only one night.

The Bank of Ottawa has made arrangements with the City National bank of Buffalo to cash drafts upon the bank here and for this purpose identification cards will be issued to any per-comes this season greatly augmented with an array of the most inviting up-to-date novelties ever seen in this city, cleverly strung together for laughing purposes only. The roster includes fifty prime entertainers. The street parade, the big outside attraction, takes place at 2:30 p.m. In it can be seen two brass bands, a number of stylish imported English dog-carts, drawn by Kentucky thoroughbred horses, all of which are carried by this organization especially for its magnificent street pageant.

The following officers were elected at the last meeting of the C. R. society of Knox church: Pres., W. M. Rose; vice-pres., E. Little; cor.-sec., Miss I. McFarlane; rec.-sec., J. McMillan; treasurer, Miss L. Phillips. Mrs. McKay read a very interesting paper on the life and work of the late Rev. G. L. McKay, Chinese missionary.

Coney Island is already presenting an improved appearance, and although a great deal more may be done to make the beach the old favorite summer resort, the campers are improving their docks and cleaning up the lake front and things appear quite lively.

The gang saw at No. 1 mill, which has been closed down for the past two or three weeks for repairs, started last Saturday night.

W. Ferguson left last Saturday on a business trip up the lake. He expects to be away a week or ten days.

East Lynne will be the next attraction in this city on Thursday June 20, at the Hilliard Opera House. From reports where this company has previously played there is a treat in store for the amusement lovers of Rat Portage. Miss Courtenay Morgan will play the dual role of Lady Isable and Madame Vine is credited with being one of the best emotional leading ladies on the road to day, and the support accorded her is excellent. The company has been selected with great care, each one being specially adapted to the parts assigned them. The company will be here one night.

N. McDonald, of the Rat Portage Lumber Co., has erected a summer dwelling on Coney Island where he intends to camp for the summer.

We are all pleased to see J. Hackett on the Lake of the Woods once more. Jack still pulls the same steady oar.

It is evident some people are not yet acquainted with the location of the new post office. P. H. Austin, whose office was at one time the post office and in the door of which is a drop letter hole, was surprised to see T. C. C. addressed to Rainy River, on the floor this morning.

Hull Austin, returned this week from a month's trip to his former home in the east, and also visiting the Pan American.

At the present time, it would seem that A. B. McClelland's crew was the favorite for the lapstreak event on Dominion Day.

Do not forget the day and date of Richards & Pringle's Mammoth minstrel performance at the Hilliard Opera House. Nothing to equal it will be seen here again this season. Fifty royal colored minstrel entertainers appear at every performance and fun runs riot through the entire lengthy programme of varied acts—big hits every one of them. Study this list: aerial wonder, the great Shields; James Moore, the funniest comedian in minstrelsy; the Houdy brothers, emperors of music; Christian, the cycle skater; the military novelty, "The Black Watch drill"; the Alabama quartette, in the latest song successes; Kid Langford and Dick Thomas; creative and original comedians; beautiful elabrate first night, never equalled in this city.

Boer at 7:30 p. m., June 12. The enemy crept up to within short range and poured a deadly fire into the camp killing two officers and sixteen men and wounding four officers and thirty-eight men, of whom twenty-eight were slightly wounded. Only two officers and fifty men escaped to General Beaton's camp. The remainder were taken prisoners and released. Two pompoms were captured by the enemy. Full details have not yet been received.

BRITAIN NOT DECAYING.

Goldwin Smith Says Supposed Decadence is Only the Exhaustion of the Immense Start Which She Gained.

Goldwin Smith, writing in the Weekly Sun, says: "Mr. Carnegie confirms the opinion expressed in these columns, that the supposed decadence of British industry is not really decadence, but the inevitable exhaustion of the immense start which British industry had over those of all other countries at the close of the Napoleonic war. There may be, besides, a certain slackness arising from the long enjoyment of secure supremacy, and British plant may be rather antiquated compared with that of the last-comers into the field. It does not follow that the position of England is free from danger, or that she can afford to plunge into a career of imperial ambition which would at once drain her resources, drive the efforts of her people from their proper object, and jeopardize her commerce by drawing upon her the hostility of other nations, and probably involving her in war. The case of England's naval strength, about which alarms are being raised, resembles that of British industry. At the close of the Napoleonic war England was the only great naval power in the world. Other navies have since sprung up, and though the strength of the British navy, far from having declined, has greatly increased. England can no longer expect to be the sole mistress of the seas.

A Fortune of Millions For a Chicago House-keeper.

Chicago, June 18.—Where is Mrs. Josephine Bennett, and why does she not come forward to lay claim to the big prize part of a fortune of $8,000,000 which she has fallen heir.

From the humble position of house-keeper, Mrs. Bennett, according to her friends has been raised by a legacy to the dizzy heights of affluence, and yet she has disappeared, so far they know, and lawyers seeking to inform her of the good fortune can find no trace of her movements for the last three months.

Mrs. Bennett for several years had been living with Mr. and Mrs. George Strong in this city. In this house she occupied to some extent the position of house-keeper, though Mr. Strong and his wife had known her for a number of years and treated her as intimate friend.

Spring Poemlets.

Now once the Jaybird sings
Its rag-time carols to the Jays
And rustic barnyard loudly rings
With speckled hen's exultant lays.

Again we hear the merry lark
Of yonder spreading dogwood trees
And meadow larks go off a lark
And whistle at the passing breeze
And mopping his perspiring brow,
The hired man clasps up the plough.

Now once again we hear the hum
Of busy bees that feed us honey:
And flocks to the country come
To part the stranger from his money.

The placid meadow brooks again
Have got their babbling habit on
And rustic poets seize the pen,
And roll their eyes like dying fawn
And fanned by a gentle breeze wing
Bulbule their lyrics to the spring.

Now once again adown the lane
Beneath the moonlight on the farm
John Henry and his Mary Jane
In love's young dream stroll arm
in arm:

They do not whisper words of love,
But speak them out in accents
clear,
Because beneath yonder skies above
There's no one but the cows to hear.

And oft explodes a hoarse kiss
That sounds like popgun charged with bliss.

Now once again the bullfinch sits
And bellows at the rising moon
And through the air the black bat
flits
And new notes get their pipes in tune.

And from their birth place farm
wives swoop
The eggs the faithful hens have laid.

Selecting their own omelette
To take to stores in town to trade
For anything they think is need:
And is a bargain at the price.

Now once again we soon will fly
Unto those rural scenes so gay.
On our vacation you and I
To while a slice of time away:
All through the day we'll sit and roast,
And fight mosquitoes through the night.
And then return and proudly boast
Of rural pleasures and delights.
Our friends cannot but laugh black,
Our cash down into Reuben's sack.

MY COUNTRY GIRL.

I have not seen thee for many a moon;
Girl with the freckled nose and down
cast eyes,
You stand before me, thou, a part of June,
Lace-trimmed, red-trimmed, winsome, wild and wise,
Did I forget thee, little one so fair?
Behold, I place this red rose in your hair!

Sunlit hands so hard and brown, I hold them fast,
Girl with the tawny mane and sun-brown
ed cheeks,
Alone, I'm with you, once again at last,
To tell you that I loved you, maiden meek.
You checked a sob, I heard your bosom
sigh,
Thou little dawning one so frail and shy.

Hold up thy chin and look me in the face,
Girl with the solemn eyes and lashes
long,
The tears upon you cheek have left no
trace,
Thou art so very weak and yet so strong:
And did you wonder, in your lonely pain,
If I would ever, ever, ever come again?

The grassy path cows come winding 'round
the hill,
The cow-bell tinkles o'er the meadow lea,
And there you stand, so silent, grave and still,
Beneath your print sun-bonnet, watching me.

Haste, little one, before the setting sun,
I'll wait here until your milking's done.

A LOVABLE JUDGE.

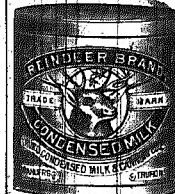

How Sir Thomas Galt Unconsciously Worked into Lawyer's Manda.

The following is from the New York Tribune of recent date:
"Sir Thomas Galt, Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas of Ontario," said a prominent Canadian barrister at the Waldorf-Astoria last evening, "is a most engaging and lovable man. Sir Thomas is a brother of Sir Alexander Galt, who was formerly Canadian High Commissioner to England. Sir Thomas has many peculiarities, the most prominent of which is that he hates to have anything read to him in court. He believes it destroys the effect. I remember once when a fellow-barrister and myself were one evening to dine with Sir Thomas I said to the other man: 'I'll bet you anything you like that within forty seconds of the time we land in the room Sir Thomas will remark on the different points of view from which the Judge and the barrister regard the docket.' The other man thought for a moment, and then took the bet for $5, saying: 'Well, no matter what happens, I can stop Sir Thomas for at least forty seconds by doing all the talking myself.' His figuring was incorrect, however, as the outcome proved. As I soon as we got in I said to the Judge, 'Yes, Sir Thomas, I am sorry to be so small a docket,' 'Ah! my dear John,' he made instant reply, 'it's strange the different view a Judge and counsellor will take of the size of a docket.' As soon as we got to one side I queried of the other lawyer: 'Well, he said it didn't hurt him,' he growled in reply, 'he said it all right enough, but you dropped a nickel in the slot to make him do it.'"

The announcement of the coming of the Richards & Pringle's magnificent minstrel organization to the Hilliard Opera House promises patrons of enjoyable amusement the best minstrel bill of the season, eclipsing every previous effort of this big company. It and in the door of a sleigh, left the hotel, and was taken by a letter, addressed to Itany River, on the floor this morning.

Hill Austin, returned this week, from a month's trip to the former mine in the east, and also visiting the Pan American.

At the present time, it would seem that A. H. McClelland's crew was the favorite for the lapstreak event on Dominion Day.

Do not forget the day and date of Richards & Pringle's Mammoth Minstrel performance at the Hilliard Opera House. Nothing to equal it will be seen here again this season. Fifty royal colored minstrel entertainers appear at every performance and fun runs riot through the entire length of programme of varied acts—big hits every one of them. Study this list: a great wonder, the great Sheds; James Moore, the funniest comedian in minstrelsy; the Housley brothers, emperors of music; Christain, the cycle skater; the military novelty, "The Black Watch drill," the Alakama quartet, the latest song success, Kid Lafford and Dick Thomas; creative and original comedians, besides an elaborate first part, never equalled in this style of entertainment. Watch for the big street parade at 2:30 p. m. on the day of the company's arrival in this city.

Jos. Hicks, late mine Captain at the Mikado, leaves today for Mine Centre, where he will act in a similar capacity at the Golden Star. Mr. Hicks is an old Cornish miner and has had 20 years' experience in the silver country to the east of us as well as in this camp. He is said to be one of the best mining captains in the country. The Golden Stars to be congratulated upon securing him.

Anthony Blum, of Boston, Mass., in company with a number of substantial business men from eastern American cities, arrived this morning, and will spend some days looking over various mining properties in this section and in the Manitow district.

Chas. H. Heys, of Toronto, is on a visit to his brother Thos. Heys. Mr. Heys is on his return from a trip to New Mexico.

Richard Thompson has recovered from his long illness and is able to attend to his duties at the C. P. R., though still very weak. His many friends are glad to see him about and hope that he will regain his old time vigor.

FIGHTING IN SOUTH AFRICA.

British Engage DeWet and Capture Large Quantities of Supplies.

London June 15.—Lord Kitchener reports to the war office from Pretoria as follows:

"During the march from Verdo, Gen. Elliot's column engaged DeWet near Reitz, June 6. After severe fighting they captured seventy-one loaded wagons, forty-five prisoners, fifty-eight rifles, 1,000 rounds of ammunition and 4,000 cattle. The Boers left seventeen killed and three wounded. Our casualties were three officers and seven men killed and one officer and 24 men wounded."

London, June 18.—Lord Kitchener has cabled from Pretoria under today's date as follows:

"Near Welmarus, twenty miles south of Middleburg, 250 Victorian Mounted Rifles from General Beaton's column were surprised in camp at Steenkoolspuit by a superior force of

AN HEIRESS IS MISSING.

A Fortune of Millions For a Chicago House-keeper.

Chicago, June 11.—Where is Mrs. Josephine Bennett, and why does she not come forward to lay claim to the large part of a fortune of $8,000,000 which she has fallen heir.

From the humble position of house-keeper, Mrs. Bennett, according to her friends has been raised by a legacy to the dizzy heights of affluence, and yet she has disappeared, so far they know, and lawyers seeking to inform her of the good fortune can find no trace of her movements for the last three months.

Mrs. Bennett for several years had been living with Mr. and Mrs. George Strong in this city. In this home she occupied to some extent the position of housekeeper, though Mr. Strong and his wife had known her for a number of years and treated her as intimate friend.

Last February she left the Strong residence, saying she was going to visit some relatives on the south side, and they thought nothing of it until a few weeks later, when Mr. Strong learned that she had fallen heir to an estate left by a brother in Montreal. This brother, according to Mr. Strong was Peter Cartier, who accumulated a fortune said to amount to $8,400,000 in the manufacture of signs and colored bottles and other accessories to the druggist trade. Since the numerous

NO SHADOW

Of outward misfortune can darken the smile of the loyal wife and loving mother. But when disease comes the smile slowly fades, and in its place comes the drawn face and tight closed lips which tell of the constant struggle with pain.

When the delicate woman's organism is diseased the whole body suffers; the form grows thin, and the complexion dull. The first step to sound health is to cure the diseases which undermine the womanly strength.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries disagreeable discharges, heals inflammation, and alleviates and cures female weakness. The wonderful cures of womanly diseases effected by the use of "Favorite Prescription" place it at the front of all put-up medicines specially prepared for the use of women.

"I had two operations because of one of the most skilled surgeons of the West, but did not get relief. Then, against my doctor's strict orders, I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery, and also followed the advice given in the Common Sense Medical Advice. I continued this treatment for three months, and to-day am as healthy and vigorous as I ever was. I cannot tell the doctor or those who know of my kind letters to me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headaches.

Now once again we soon will fly. Into those rural scenes so gay. On our vacation you and I. To while a slice of time away. All through the day we'll sit and chat.

And fight mosquitoes through the night. And then return and proudly boast Of rural pleasures out of sight. Our faces leaved an ivy black. Our cash blown into Reuben's sack.

Was This Rat Portage?

Northwest Magazine: A commercial traveller wanders for the truth of this incident, which happened in a hotel in the Northwest Territories, Canada. On coming down stairs in the morning the host asked him how he had rested.

"Why," the commercial traveller replied, "I couldn't rest at all. I suffered nearly all night from insomnia."

"You're a liar!" shouted the landlord. "I've run this house fourteen years, and there ain't one of them things in it."

What the World's Population Will be in 2250 Year.

New York, June 11.—According to a careful computation by J. Hoff Schoelling, a statistician, when three hundred and fifty years shall have passed the density of the earth's population will be such that each person will have only two-thirds of an acre. That space, fifty-five and one half yards square, will have to suffice for purposes—agriculture, roads, houses, parks, railways and so on. Mr. Schoelling will say in an article in the Cosmopolitan for July that, when the globe's population reached this density, which is about one thousand persons to the mile the earth will in his opinion, be full.

Mr. Schoelling reaches this conclusion by a careful analysis of the growth of population in the nineteenth century, and upon that basis computes the population of the earth in the year 2250. What will become of prosperity in 2250 is a problem that he does not intend to solve.

Present populations to the square mile are:

Russia	25
United States	15
China	95
Spain	90
France	180
Germany	250
Italy	280
United Kingdom	350
Holland	410
Belgium	570

Mr. Schoelling estimates the population of the earth at 1,000,000,000 and for 2250 at 52,773,000,000.

lives it destroys the effect. I remember once when a fellow-barrister and myself were one evening to dine with Sir Thomas I said to the other man: "I'll bet you anything you like that within forty seconds of the time we land in the room Sir Thomas will remark on the different points of view from which the Judge and the barrister regard the docket." The other man thought a moment, and then took the bet for $5, saying: "Well, no matter what happens, I can stop Sir Thomas for at least forty seconds by doing all the talking myself. His figuring was incorrect, however, as the outcome proved. As soon as we got in I said to the Judge: "Sir Thomas, I am sorry to see so small a docket." "Ah! my dear John," he made instant reply, "it's strange the different view a Judge and counsellor will take of the size of a docket." As soon as we got to one side I queried of the other lawyer: "Well, he said it, didn't he?" "Yes," he growled in reply, "he said it all right enough, but you dropped a nickel in the slot to make him do it."

FOR CANADIAN UNITY.

Leading French-Canadian Thinker Speaks of the National Destiny of His Compatriots.

In answer to the question, "What will be the destiny of the French-Canadian people during the twentieth century?" put by a French-Canadian newspaper, H. C. St. Pierre, K. C., one of the leading French-Canadian thinkers, says: "The French-Canadian race will be what it is to-day, with the following modifications: The French-Canadians will become more Canadian, more 'Britishers,' more united to their compatriots of the English tongue, but in a hundred years from now they will still be French-Canadians, that is to say, Canadians speaking the French language and faithful to their origin, their constitution, their laws, and their religion. But let us be understood, over the name of French-Canadian a nation cannot have two allegiances. No one can serve two masters at the same time. The people of Canada can never hope to form a distinct nation and to lay the foundation of a great country so long as the Canadian of French origin places France in the first place in his affections. He must feel that his country is here in this beautiful Canada, which God has given him as a heritage, and I have no need to add that the same law applies to Canadians of English, Scotch, and Irish origin as well."
